

FATHER'S DAY - "IT'S ALL ABOUT TOOLS"

"If the only tool you have is a hammer, everything looks like a nail"

"War is inevitable"
... yesterday's belief

June 2006. Our country now has the best military tools in the world for Peacekeeping – let's keep it that way.

We need additional tools for today's problems. Terrorism is hard to bomb. Domestic violence is hard to shoot at. Bullying in our schools is not solved by more SWAT teams.

A U. S. Department of Peace and Nonviolence will focus our country's vast resources in nonviolence, mediation, and constructive conflict management to develop new tools for Peacebuilding & Peacemaking. Then our sons will have effective alternatives for situations that haven't yet hardened into a nail and require a hammer.

Oct 1945 My father returned home after 3.5 years of war in the South Pacific.

The tools our country gave my Dad to protect and defend my mom and me were a rifle and heavy artillery. He was training for the invasion of mainland Japan, when a new tool, the atomic bomb devastated Hiroshima and Nagasaki. He came home with a Purple Heart.

"Conflict is inevitable Violence is not"

Dear

We encourage you to support legislation to establish a Department of Peace and Nonviolence (H.R. 3760 / S. 1756)

- Reduce domestic and international violence
- Promote development of more effective tools for constructive conflict management
- Support our military Peacekeeping forces with complementary Peacebuilding resources.

Cost: 2% of the DoD budget.

This seems like a Father's Day Sale considering what the DoPN can accomplish and how it will complement our DoD and local law enforcement.

www.DOPCampaign.org

Individuals, families, groups, businesses, and nations that learn to manage their differences constructively (rather than destructively) can be more productive and have more fun. Support H.R. 3760 & S. 1756.
